THE STORY CONTINUES...

We've been up to a lot in the past year. Our Hacienda Classical concerts sold out across the country, bringing orchestral sounds to live DJing from the world's first superclub. We played to a total of 146,000 people, from intimate gigs in hipster bars, to a packed crowd at MCFC football ground. We brought joy and tears to thousands as we bid farewell to Carlos Acosta, toured Italy with Martha Argerich, and recorded an all-Mozart disc with Jean-Efflam Bavouzet.

The year ahead sees no let-up as we continue towards our aim of redefining what an orchestra can do. Our groundbreaking Camerata in the Community work is taking music to young and old people in the local area and is spearheading world-first research into the ways music can improve the lives of people living with dementia. We'll be playing concerts to new crowds, joining old friends, taking on the classics as well as playing alongside film viewings, reinterpreting pop and rock classics—see From Haydn to Hendrix—and... well, the list goes on, but have a look at our concerts at Colne in 2016-17 and join us for yet another great season.

Take part in our journey this year as we rock, reinvent and revisit. Our series opens with a bang—From Haydn to Hendrix takes on the 'bad boys of music', with orchestral performances of Jimi Hendrix and The Rolling Stones set alongside Haydn, Holst and Vaughan Williams.

Our Classics with a Twist concert will revisit favourites such as Bizet's Habanera from Carmen and Mozart's Marriage of Figaro played in a relaxed setting with Manchester Camerata's dynamic style.

Martynas Levickis last played with us in Colne in 2014, where he astounded with his fresh reinventions of classical greats. If you never thought you'd hear the phrase 'rock-star accordionist', now's your chance to be enlightened.

For the first time, each of our concerts will see us joined by recipients of the Pendle Young Musicians' Bursary, revealing the best of the new generation of performers in the area.

Thanks to our funding as one of Arts Council England's National Portfolio Organisations, together with the support of Pendle Leisure Trust and a number of generous benefactors in Colne, we continue to bring extraordinary music and musicians to the Muni Theatre.

We look forward to seeing you on the next part of our journey. On to September...

THURSDAY 22 SEPTEMBER 2016, 7.30PM, THE MUNI, COLNE

The bad boys of music—Haydn and Mozart were the rock stars of their age, and we bring them together with the icons of 20th century rock, Jimi Hendrix and the Rolling Stones, for a night that brings the classical and rock world together. Each composer in this concert was responsible for redefining their genre and shaping the music to come, all with no small amount of ‘shock and awe’. Bring the noise!

A recipient of a Pendle Young Musicians’ Bursary, Ruth Hallows won 2014’s PYMB competition to earn title of “Pendle Young Musician”. We’re delighted to have her playing with us in Colne to inspire the next generation of young musicians.
