Little Steeping 1

Out for a short walk with the dog
A quick hello and bye
Woolly mittens, warm scarves
The crisp crunchy cool of the snow
Friends play
friends play
While Parents drink steaming hot tea
We know of freedom
We know of friendship
And creeping darkness
Slippery daggers hang from the drainpipes.

Out for a long walk with the dog
A long long chat, the children wait
Short shorts, filmstar shades
We want ice cream and football games
Friends play
Friends play
While people sit in roasting cars.
We know of freedom
We know of friendship
And creeping darkness
One little bee hovers over grandma on the sunbed

The Polar Bear

I taste the setting of the sun
As I touch the ice crystals
Wrapped in a gale of wind
The snow soars past my mouth

Seals slip from the ice berg
Into the freezing water below
The North wind ruffles my fur
I am untouched
By the frozen world around me

I hear the dripping of the ice
The days get hotter still
The ice cracks beneath my feet
I raise my head
To the starry sky
The rainbow lights dance across the darkness

I smell the breath of humans
In their strange white houses
A banging noise shatters the night
A blast of silver
Spirals towards me.

The Tiger

Lush leaves, spiky twisted
Red, yellow, orange and green

Rain,
Lightning,
Fire crackling all around

Whistling,
Howling,
Roaring,
Blowing!

Cla a a aws
Stri i i ipes
Tee ee ee th
Whi i i skers
Cla a a aws
Stri i i ipes
Tee ee ee eeth
Whi i i skers

Prowling through the twisted jungle
Quiet as a mouse,
The tiger's eye as sharp as broken glass
Observes his prey.
The tiger's heart racing like a beating drummmmmm
The tiger has caught his prey.
His teeth as red as apples
The tiger disappears into the midnight sky

Songs from near by

My room, number x, x street

Chillin', just chillin',
Chillin', just chillin',
Sitting on the couch with my mates
A private place

Out on the streets,
Birds tweet,
Cars zoom
Wind blows

Chillin', just chillin',
Chillin', just chillin',
Sitting on the couch with my mates

Scrumptious sundaes,
Mouthwatering pizzas,
Succulent burgers
Plasma TVs
Snug and cosy,
Over the moon,
Over the moon,

Books and I phone
Diaries and dolls
Bubbling spa
Chocolate cake
Feeling fabulous
Sleepy, serene,
Sleepy, serene.

The final minute, Chelsea v. Bolton, score 1 – 2,

We have risen to our feet
Feeling nervous, feeling tense
On the edges of our seats
On the edges of our seats

Come on Bolton, win the match!
Come on Bolton, win the match!

Daniel Stirridge has the ball, he's rocketing along
Curving and swerving.
Suddenly, Lampard tackles him and takes the ball – and he's off!
A wonderful through ball to Drogba.
Drogba's speeding like a Lambourghini, sprinting like a cheetah!
He skills past O'Brien – will he score?

We have risen to our feet
Feeling nervous, feeling tense
On the edges of our seats
On the edges of our seats

Come on Bolton, win the match!
Come on Bolton, win the match!

Drogba's almost there now – but here come the Bolton defenders, charging like lions,
And the ball is kicked out for a corner.
The crowd is tense
Cole takes the corner – the ball bends
It flies through the air
The cross is in the box
Header
Jussi leaps up like a kangaroo
An amazing dive to the right!
What a brilliant save!

What a keeper, what a catch
Awesome Bolton won the match!
Jussi leapt up, he was flying,
He was just electrifying,
He was just electrifying!

What a keeper what a catch!
Awesome Bolton won the match!

Bidston Mill

Sails rotating
Creaking, clanking
Driven by the gathering breeze
Piercing noises, grinding stones
Windmill towers over Bidston's trees

A king guarding its territory
Gazing at shape-shifting clouds
Observing the star-lit sky
Peering over the Mersey,
The glistening River Dee
And a land of fertile fields

People trailing up and down
Waiting for their flour
In and out of the mill
Children play in muddle puddles,
Horses hauling carts
Wheels shatter the sandstone rocks

Bonfire Night

Crackly monster in the moonlit sky.
Sit, spit!
Hiss like a snake
Rice crispy pops
Rage like a storm!

Burning monster in the moonlit sky.
Glow, grow!
Sparkle in the dark
Flames of blue, orange and red.

A sea of gold,
Glow like the sun,
Warms my sad heart,
Warms my sad heart.

Snake-like monster on the concrete walls,
Swish, sway,
A warming wave
Rise high,
Tall and proud.

Songs from far away

The rainforest

Racophorus tree frogs leap from leaf to leaf
Arapaimas swim swiftly in the murky waters of the Amazon
Indus river dolphins soar out of the river like birds on the wind
New Guinea bandicoots search through leaf litter for bugs to eat

Forgotten realm bursting with life
Cascading raindrops on lime green leaves
Lily pads float on huge pools
Surprises hide in every tree
Surprises hide in every tree
Surprises hide in every tree!

Flying lizards glide through the trees
Ocelots pounce rapidly on their unsuspecting prey
Rufous fantails incessantly flap their delicate wings
Electric tembladers stealthily electrocute a passing fish!
Scarlet macaws ear piercingly shriek and squawk
Tamanduas slowly crawl along a branch

Acresfield Primary School

Life of a child soldier

Vibrations of the gun
Last breath
Black deadness
Lost life
Mud on the fields
Dull sky

Rockets, rifles, guns rattling
Screams, shouts, bullets, blood
Rockets, rifles, guns rattling
Screams, shouts, bullets, blood

Come on, you'll be OK
Take the gun
Over there!
Come on, hurry!
Pull the trigger!
You'll be OK
Do it now –
Fire!

You're born
You cry
You play
You learn
You change
You turn
You chase
You hide
You pause
You click.

Sun Song

Life giver to the earth,
Power and energy gives us heat.
Vibrant light, colour maker,
Golden rays, warmth giver,
Rising in the east,
Setting in the west,
Gliding through radiant orange
Like a glowing football.

Shining, shimmering, scorching sphere,
Suspended spectacularly,
Silently in the seeping sky,
Flowing, floating, fluid, pathway,
Luminous lava leading to the burning sun.

Calm and relaxed
Soothing like a warm bath
My blood pounds through my body
Rejoicing at the sun's birth,
Rejoicing at the sun's birth,
Rejoicing at the sun's birth.

Songs for the imagination

The Price of Life (nightmare)

pain, ash, weak, blood boiling, scalding, body crumbling, scarred, road to death, crispy veins, scared, sweaty, horrible, can't get out, screaming, panting, crying, confusion, worrying, shaky

The seas are pitch black,
The mud sticks like tack,
The air is filled with smoky tar,
An impact!
From a golden star.

The red sun has died,
The black earth is tied
To a horrible destructive ending,
Swept up like a golden wing!

The time has come!
The time is done!
Earth has tried to survive,
But now the sun kills all!

Everyone's gone!
Everyone's gone!
And I'm the only one
To witness what awaits
And now we pay the price of life!

Cheadle Heath Primary School

Wondering song

Standing still
Staring into space
Looking at the universe
Like a garden.
A bubble of ideas,
A bursting brain!
An endless race of questions, questions, questions, questions, questions!

So what's the answer?

Why is the sky so high?
Why do the rainclouds cry?
Why doesn't the snow float up, only down?
Does the mountain top know it will wake up covered in snow?
How do the leaves feel landing on the ground?

Concoction of Smiles

Concoction of smiles
Multi-coloured medicine
Explosion of joy fizzes in your mouth
Sticky splash of sweetness
Health and happiness
Potion of peace for all the world

It tingles and jiggles and swirls and pops
One sip is a three-course meal
Feel the excitement grow in your blood
Lights up the world like a shooting star, shooting star, shooting star!

Made from...
Two pounds of love whipped up thick
A pinch of consideration
Stirred with confidence
An ounce of celebration, celebration, celebration!
Mixed with a meal shared with friends
And sprinkled with victory, brushed with fun!

Earth Voice

Shhhhh! You can almost hear me....

I am the earth
This is my voice
I'm changing before your eyes
I'm changing so fast!
Help me!
Save me!
Love me!
Love me!
I depend on you.
I am the earth
This is my voice.

Spinning, spinning, spinning!

Drenched in colour, blue and green
Nations of grass and emerald trees
Clouds and birds and everything bright
Dark and delicious dolphin blue seas.

Spinning, spinning, spinning!

Drenched in colour, yellow and red
Clouds float in the black sky
Surrounded by stars in constellations
Tears and laughter, shivers and sighs.

Off to the post office with the dog
Mouth closed in the whistling wind
Old trackies splash through
The muddy puddle traps
Friends play
Friends play
While trees remember sunny days

We dream of forests
We dream of deserts
We dream of falling
We dream of flying
