Portraits in Music
2011/12 Inaugural Season
Gábor Takács-Nagy  Music Director

www.manchestercamerata.co.uk
AN INVITATION FROM GÁBOR TAKÁCS-NAGY

It is an honour to become Music Director of Manchester Camerata, an ensemble of international quality. I also have family living near to the city so it feels strangely like a homecoming. I look forward to pursuing my two passions in Manchester - music and football - for many years to come.

When I hear music, pictures and colours often spring to my mind. Portraits in Music seems a very natural starting point for my tenure as Music Director, drawing together programmes which are musical portraits of the great emotions and big subjects common to all of our lives.

Two programmes (24 Sept & 28 Jan) feature inspirational works by my fellow Hungarian, Bela Bartók, who enjoyed his first international success in Manchester’s Free Trade Hall. In May 2012 we also celebrate the English soul in an inventive and beautiful concert. The great genius of Mozart is never far from our minds and ears, and I look forward to working with a great friend and fellow musician, pianist Kathryn Stott (10 Mar) on Piano Concerto no.21. It’s a tremendous privilege to share the stage with many great artists this season including percussionist Dame Evelyn Glennie (28 Jan), pianist Jean-Efflam Bavouzet (24 Sept), singers Rebecca Bottone (15 Oct) and Roderick Williams (4 Apr), poet Michael Symmons Roberts (15 Oct), visual artist John Hyatt (UpClose series) and of course Camerata’s inspirational new Leader - Giovanni Guzzo.

Life is not easy in the 21st century; it is full of challenges and in some places conflict. For me music is a great leveller, it is a universal language often signified by its beauty and truth and I look forward to exploring and sharing this exciting mission with you all, my English friends.

I invite you to join us for a season of discovery, as Manchester Camerata and I embark on our new journey together.

Gábor Takács-Nagy Music Director
This season marks the beginning of a new era for Manchester Camerata as we celebrate the arrival of Music Director Gábor Takács-Nagy. Portraits in Music is our most diverse, collaborative and exciting season yet, with more ways than ever to experience the orchestra both live in concert and online. With music spanning the 17th century to the present day, you will notice a strong link with other art forms. In collaboration with Sound and Music, as part of their Embedded artist development programme, we will première new musical works inspired by portraits within Manchester Art Gallery.

In 2011/12 we unveil two new initiatives: Unwrapped gives you a chance to be guided through a piece of music by Gábor Takács-Nagy and Camerata’s musicians before a complete performance; while UpClose is an intimate and laidback series of chamber concerts in smaller venues around the city (see p.9 for details).

Our creative learning programme is an integral part of our season and we’ll be working with people from across the North West, in both schools and the wider community, during the year. Taking inspiration from our local environment, our flagship learning project Portraits of Place will create a giant map of the region in music and photographic collage.

Manchester Camerata events are more than just concerts. Through our Talking Points, Learning & Participation Performances and Encores you can learn more about the orchestra, music, performers and what makes our performances unique. Join us and be part of something very special.

settings of romantic poems by Gustav Pfleger-Moravsky. Souvenir de Florence
